

Dear Parishioners,

First, please do remember that next Sunday, 3rd July, we celebrate Weld Day when we commemorate John and Mary Weld's gift of land on which our parish complex and sports field now stand. In return for his donation, Thomas asked only that parishioners remember him and his wife in their prayers. This we do at the Mass and then afterwards we shall toast their health at the parish picnic. As last year there will be a free glass of wine with strawberries and I think ice-cream to follow. You bring yourselves, picnic bags, blankets or stools and we shall enjoy a lovely morning as this year we are joined by the Sabden community. The Mass will be the only Mass that day for both Clitheroe and Sabden and will begin at 10.30am. It will be celebrated outside on the field, though if by chance it rains we shall retreat to the church.

The Saturday evening Mass on 2nd July will be celebrated as usual at 6.00pm.

There was an excellent discussion ranging over a full agenda at the Forum on Wednesday night. Among other matters I introduced the books required for the new English translation of the Mass. They are:

A church altar missal £230.00

A chapel missal for Sabden (the church missal is too large for Sabden's altar) £115.00

A small missal (the handheld missal which I use at the beginning and the end of Mass) £50.00

An interim missal (a paperback edition for use between the introduction of the new translation and the publication of the permanent missal at Christmas) £9.95.

I have also ordered people's leaflets for each Sunday containing the complete Mass texts, special children's missals for 4 to 7 and 8 to 12 year olds, and cards for midweek Masses.

If parishioners wish to purchase any of these on behalf of their family, in memory of deceased family, to commemorate an anniversary or whatever the reason then please let me know.

Finally, don't worry about the changes: most effect what the priest speaks and if occasionally you allow the 'old words' to slip out, then I'm sure that you will be in good company!

Please note the next Forum is in Sabden on 28th September (not 21st!)

See you at the picnic!
