

Dear Parishioners, Congratulations to the families of our 34 children who received the priceless gift the Lord in their First Holy Communion last Sunday in St Michael and St John's. We pray that they continue to delight in how loved and special they are to God and that going to Mass and Holy Communion will always remain important to them. Sabden's First Holy Communicants join us today at the Weld Mass to complete their initiation programme and receive their certificates.

There are 45 mature trees in our cemetery. I know because a recent survey examined them and revealed that five are dangerous and must be felled and a further 14 require a tree surgeon's attention!

The church heating system has undergone major surgery! The expansion joint that has caused major concern and leakage over the past couple of years has been by-passed and a computerised miser control has been fitted to the boiler. This should economise on gas while ensuring that the church is always adequately heated.

Ensuring a warm church is important not only for the congregation but also for the fabric of the building. Fuel is costly but not as expensive as an outbreak of dry rot! Last winter's heating bill, from October to March, was £6,000!

Work has begun on the new church security system. When this is commissioned we shall be able to leave the church open during daylight hours.

To eradicate and prevent a reoccurrence of the unsightly black condensation marks in St Mary's Sabden, a new ceiling is being installed. Work should be completed before school Mass on Friday. The church now requires decorating. There will be a meeting in the Sabden parish hall a week on Thursday, 14th July, to discuss colour schemes and any other matters of concern. We are one parish and so Clitheroe folk are also welcome.

The parish has also to pay £7,800 towards the cost of the new entrance to the school. That and the other bills mentioned will come to nearly £30,000. The new finance committee has lots to get its teeth into.

We welcome seminarian Michael Quinn who will be with us for the coming three weeks.

Finally, gratitude goes to the three anonymous donors who have paid for the new missals in memory of deceased family members. Fr John
